AMENDMENT

Sir:

In response to the Office Action dated June 25, 2003
in the above-referenced patent application, the Applicants request that the claims be amended as indicated below:

PENDING CLAIMS

Claim 1 (original): A fastener comprising:

AI a male member and a female member that are interlockable to close said zipper and separable to open said zipper;

a slider for opening and closing said zipper when moved in opposite directions, said slider having no separating finger for separating said male and female members during opening; and

a membrane of a gauge thin enough to be captured between said male and female members when said zipper is closed, said membrane being connected to and extending between said male and female members.
